A VOICE

From the Executive Mansion.

MR. A. K. HAWKES—Dear Sir: The panoscopic glasses you furnished me some time since give excellent satisfaction. I have tested them by use, and must say they are unequalled in clearness and brilliancy by any that I have ever worn. Respectfully,
JOHN B. GORDON,
Governor of Georgia.

A Cyclone's Wreck.

Magnificent New Hotel Struck by a Tornado.

OTHER BUILDINGS DAMAGED.

A Severe Storm Crosses Over Lake Champlain, Doing a Vast Amount of Damage to Buildings and Vessels—A Number of People Reported Missing—Storm Doings Elsewhere.

SARATOGA, N. Y., July 9.—The magnificent new Bluff Point hotel at Bluff Point, three miles south of Plattsburgh, on Lake Champlain, was struck by a cyclone about noon yesterday and badly damaged. A number of people are said to have been killed and injured. This news is brought by passengers on southbound trains. The telegraph wires north of here are down, but are being repaired.

The nearest point reached by telegraph is fifty miles from the hotel, and the only facts that can be learned from the operator at the point, Port Henry, is that a heavy storm prevailed on Lake Champlain. The operator says that a number of row boats were out on the lake with people from that point, and that sixteen persons have not yet been heard from, and it is feared their boats were lost.

Passengers on the midnight train from Montreal say the storm was general from Rouses Point to Whitehall. The force of the wind was terrific, many small houses at Rouses Point and other towns along the lake being lifted from their foundations and destroyed. The Bluff Point hotel suffered damage to the extent of $5,000. No one in the hotel was injured so far as known. One guest, name unknown, who was out in a small boat when the tornado struck the lake was drowned. Trees and small buildings in the vicinity were torn down by the wind.

The conductor of the train said that the steamer launch, "Nellie," with twelve people on board, was wrecked in the storm near the Bluff Point hotel. Five got ashore in safety and the remaining seven are missing. At Port Henry, ten people who were out in row boats are missing. The name of the guest known to be drowned is Valley. He was stopping with his two daughters at the Bluff Point hotel. The tin roof of the hotel was torn off by the wind and nearly every window in the house was shattered. The guests were panic-stricken, but none in the house at the time were injured. More than 500 trees in the vicinity were leveled.

At Burlington, Vermont.

BURLINGTON, Vt., July 9.—The storm which occurred yesterday afternoon was the worst known for years, and several private yachts had narrow escapes from sinking. The steamers Vermont and Chateau Gay were both late at this port, and fears were entertained for their safety, but arrived safe. Word has been received here that the tug Nellie, Capt. Clark, of Willsboro, foundered off Rouses Point at the beginning of the storm and sank with Capt. Clark, his son and the engineer, and a resident of Rouses Point, name unknown, on board. No lives were lost in this immediate vicinity. Considerable damage was done to shade trees and lawns, and some chimneys were blown off. A house in Underhill was struck by lightning and badly damaged.

Severe Storm at Winthrop, Maine.

WINTHROP, Me., July 9.—A remarkably severe wind and rain storm occurred at 6:30 p. m., the wind reaching the velocity of a tornado. A large number of buildings were badly damaged, the wind seeming to cut a swath through the town about 200 feet wide. The belfry of the Methodist church was blown off and fell upon Chester Shaw's house. Mrs. P. B. Shaw, Chester Shaw's mother, was terribly crushed by the falling of the roof, which collapsed under the weight of the belfry. She is not expected to survive. Other members of the family had narrow escapes. Leander Bates' carriage was struck by a falling tree and demolished. Mr. Bates was badly hurt. The streets were blocked with debris and the damage is very extensive.

In Cleveland, Ohio.

CLEVELAND, O., July 9.—A severe wind storm struck this city at 5:30 o'clock yesterday evening, and blew fiercely for about twenty minutes. One of the four great electric light masts, located at the corner of Lake and Bank streets, was prostrated, demolishing the sidewalk where it fell. The front of the VanCleve Glass and Sash company's store, west of the viaduct, was carried away, and all the trees in the South Side park laid low. Reports of minor damage comes from all quarters of town.

In Michigan.

CHEROYGAN, Mich., July 9.—A severe rain storm, accompanied by a gale from the northwest struck this city last night, doing considerable damage to buildings, fences and trees, and leveling the crops in the surrounding country. Houses in the lower part of the town were completely surrounded by water from two to three feet in depth.

In Southwestern New York.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 9.—Southwestern New York was visited by a severe wind and rain storm yesterday evening. Reports from Fredonia, Salamanca and other places say that trees were uprooted, houses moved from their foundations, crops devastated and other damage done.

At Bangor, Maine.

BANGOR, Me., July 9.—The heaviest wind and rain storm known here for years swept over the city yesterday evening, unroofing several ice houses, blowing down trees and fences and prostrating wires.

Streets Flooded in Jamestown, N. Y.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 9.—A special to The Express from Jamestown, N. Y., says that a sudden storm last night flooded the streets, and the wind blew down trees and damaged buildings.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Meeting of the Supreme Lodge in the City of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 9.—The Supreme Lodge of Knights of Pythias was welcomed to the city yesterday morning by Mayor Peck, Governor Heard and Grand Chancellor Hoskins. J. P. Linton, of Johnstown, responded. After the reception the Supreme lodge convened at West Side Turner hall, Supreme Vice Chancellor Shaw presiding. The annual report showed that the order had a membership at the close of 1889 of 263,847, and now about 273,000. In treasuries of Grand lodges, $115,952.03; subordinate lodges, $1,155,203. Paid for relief in past year, $789,455.53; in the past two years, $1,497,335.96. Ohio has gained most largely, 5,582 members; Indiana, 3,240. South Carolina's percentage is higher, 47.97; Colorado, 46.03.

Vice Chancellor George B. Shaw, of Eau Claire, Wis., will undoubtedly be elected supreme chancellor. There will be a hard fight on the question of crushing out local insurance companies connected with grand lodges.

The parade of the uniformed and un-uniformed ranks took place in the afternoon at 4 o'clock, and was unquestionably the grandest procession, civic or military, ever seen in the city. It took two hours for the procession to pass a given point. Careful estimates by Pythian officers, as well as by well-posted military men and civilians, place the number of men in line at over 6,000. The uniform rank men in line numbered nearly 6,000, nearly every regiment in the United States and Canada being represented. As the vast column moved down Grant avenue, and brigade after brigade fell in from side streets, a grand scene of pagantry could not well be imagined. Through the trees on that well shaded avenue the bright plumes, glittering epaulets, shining swords and other knightly paraphernalia glistened and danced in the rays of a declining day with most beautiful effect, and appeared as one endless stream of golden brilliancy.

The only affair of the kind that equalled it was the one by uniformed knights in Cincinnati three years ago, which Gen. Sherman reviewed and pronounced the finest since the close of the war. There were at that time 10,000 in line. One of the interesting features of the parade was the appearance, for the first time in the history of order, of the so-called non-uniform knights, i. e. knights belonging to the rank and file of the order. This novel feature was under command of Col. J. A. Watrous, assisted by an able corps of aides and escorted by the Fourth battalion, commanded by Col. Falk.

Outburst of a Volcano.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Secretary Noble late yesterday afternoon received the following dispatch from Superintendent Bontelle at Mammoth Hot Springs, W. V., which seems to indicate the outburst of a volcano in that region: The following dispatch just received from Morris basin: "At 4:17 p. m. there was a severe shock of earthquake followed by a terrific roar, and upon investigation it proved that the geyser, called 'New Crater,' had an eruption. It is throwing up a column of steam, stones and water about 200 feet in circumference and to the height of about 125 feet, and shaking the whole basin around the vicinity."

Brought Back to Ohio.

FREDERICK, Md., July 9.—Dr. Harrison Wagner, the litigant, who has been confined in the county jail here for three weeks, having been arrested under a petition in lunacy, was taken before the circuit court yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus. He admitted that he is a lunatic pauper, and it was ordered that he be delivered into the custody of Hunsen Wagner, his brother, of Ohio, to be taken by him to that state. His brother agrees to use his endeavors to prevent him from the further prosecution of his suit against residents of Maryland and the Adams Express company.

Freight Car Demolished.

CHICAGO, July 9.—The fast mail train from New Orleans over the Illinois Central was in this city on the initial trip at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, ran into an empty freight car near Monee, Ill., thirty-five miles out of Chicago. The freight car was totally wrecked, being distributed for yards along the track. The locomotive of the fast mail train, though badly crippled, did not leave the track. The mail coach and baggage car also held to the track, the occupants of the car sustaining no injuries beyond slight bruises from contact with the sides of the car.

Explosion of Sewer Gas.

BOSTON, July 9.—Yesterday as Michael Clancy and two others were filling in a trench over a gas pipe which had just been laid in La Grange street, opposite the manhole of the New England Electric Light company, there was a violent explosion, probably of sewer gas, which hurled the three men from the trench out upon the sidewalk. Clancy was injured about the head and his leg was broken. The other men were unhurt.

Mexican Mine Disaster.

CITY OF MEXICO, July 9.—Dispatches received here Monday report a fatal explosion in La Esperanza silver mine, in Puchina, state of Hidalgo, on Sunday night, in which nine men were seriously injured and two killed. Of those injured several have since died, and it is feared two others cannot recover. The explosion occurred while the miners were tapping a blast.

Congress Proceedings.

Doings of Both the House and Senate.

QUITE A VARIETY OF BUSINESS.

A Bill Passes the House to Adopt Resolutions for Preventing Collisions at Sea. The Senate Discusses the Silver Bill and Re-elected the Late Representative S. S. Cox.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—In the house yesterday immediately after the prayer, Mr. Rogers, of Arkansas, made the point of order that there was no quorum present. The speaker counted but 122 members, and on motion of Mr. McKinley, of Ohio, a call of the house was ordered. One hundred and four members answered to their names, and the journal of the previous proceeding was read.

Senate amendments were concurred in to the house bill for the admission of the state of Wyoming.

On motion of Mr. Cushman, of Michigan, amendments were concurred in to house bill granting right of way through the United States military reservation at St. Augustine, Fla., to the Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Halifax River Railroad company, and on motion of Mr. Curry, of Wyoming, amendments were concurred in to house bill for the disposal of abandoned military reservations in Wyoming.

The speaker having laid before the house senate bill to adopt regulations for preventing collisions at sea, Mr. Dingley, of Maine, asked for its immediate passage.

Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, asked him to withdraw his request, as he had a report to make from the committee on rules relative to the "original package" bill.

Mr. Dingley thereupon asked that the bill be ordered printed and remain upon the speaker's table.

Mr. Cummings, of New York, objected, saying that the saving of life at sea was more important than the passing of a bill for the benefit of prohibition cranks.

The bill having been read, Mr. Dingley explained that its purpose was the adoption of regulations to prevent collision at sea which had been unanimously adopted by the international marine conference. The members of the conference were of the opinion that the code of signals provided in the bill would prove more effective than any other that could be devised.

After a brief discussion the previous question was ordered—yeas 99, nays 91. There were forty-six pairs announced upon this vote—equivalent to ninety-two members.

Mr. Rogers, of Arkansas, moved to commit the bill, with instructions to the committee on merchant marine and fisheries to report it back with an amendment providing that the government should be not responsible for damages growing out of the neglect of her officers.

The motion to commit was lost—yeas 68, nays 111, and the bill was passed—yeas 125, nays 45.

Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, from the committee on rules, reported a resolution providing that immediately after the adoption of the resolution it shall be in order for the committee on the judiciary to call up for consideration the "original package" bill, and afterwards the bankruptcy bill—this order to continue from day to day for four days successively, beginning with today. Saturday is made private bill day.

Mr. Payson raised the question of consideration in favor of the land grant forfeiture bill.

The house refused—yeas 80, nays 97—to consider the resolution from the committee on rules.

Mr. Fagnham, of New York, presented the conference report on the bill appropriating $75,000 for the relief of A. H. Byrum.

Mr. Byrum, of Indiana, raised the question of consideration, and the house decided—yeas 87, nays 72—to consider the conference reports, the speaker counting a quorum.

Pending action, Mr. Cummings, of New York, rising to a question of personal privilege, quoted from the speech made by him on the National election bill, some allusions to John I. Davenport. He then read a letter he had received from that gentleman stating that he saw in the record that Mr. Crisp had inserted in his speech an infamous attack upon him (Davenport) copied from The Commercial Advertiser. Subsequently that paper had made a retraction, and he thought it but just that this retraction, which is quoted, should go on the record of the house. He therefore had requested Mr. Cummings to read the letter. Mr. Crisp said that he did not know Mr. Davenport, and had merely cut the extract from the paper and inserted it in his remarks because he had not had time to read it. If he had known that a retraction had been made he certainly would not have used the article.

The house then, at 5 o'clock, adjourned.

In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The senate yesterday, after routine business, took up the conference report on the silver bill, and debated it until 3 o'clock, when it was laid aside and the senate proceeded with engrosses on the late Representative S. S. Cox, of New York.

Mr. Hiscok offered the resolution of sorrow and sympathy and delivered a brief eulogy.

Mr. Voorhees spoke of Mr. Cox as one whose life was free from stain, speck or blemish, as a brave man, mentally and physically, a man, who laughed danger in the face and the law of whose being was liberality.

Mr. Sherman paid his tribute to the private and public life of Mr. Cox, and was at times so affected as to be forced to pause until he mastered his emotion. After addresses by Mr. Vest and Mr. Dixon, Mr. Everts eulogized Mr. Cox. It was not doubted, he said, that Mr. Cox had served the state from boyhood up; that he had labored for her and loved her; that for society and friendship and manhood he did what enabled and expanded him, and that he was enrolled on the list of those whose memory men would not willingly suffer to pass out of notice.

The resolution was adopted, and as a further mark of respect the senate adjourned.

MAIL TRAIN SUDDENLY STOPPED.

A Serious Collision on the Ontario and Western Railroad.

N. Y. N. E. R. R., July 9.—There was a serious collision on the Ontario and Western railroad in Gaiters, about one mile east of Albany, yesterday afternoon. The mail train, No. 1, ran into a coach on milk train No. 9, demolishing it and disabling the engine of the express.

Jacob Freshmann, of New York, was badly cut about the head.

Francis Eddicott, of the editorial staff of Enting, was slightly injured, but continued his journey to the Adirondacks.

Dr. F. E. Russell, of Staten Island, surgeon of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and Senator Frank O. Cannon, son of Frank Cannon, superintendent of the second division of the Baltimore and Ohio, were on the train, but escaped without injury. Dr. Russell furnished valuable assistance to the injured. The coach on the milk train was telescoped with the express car, but none of the six passengers were seriously hurt.

Pickuppers Wrecked.

PITTSBURGH, July 9.—A special to The Times from Meadville, Pa., says: The Meadville and Limesville excursion train, carrying the Baptist Sunday school of Franklin, which picked up at Connetquot lake yesterday, was wrecked at Watson's Run station yesterday evening, injuring seriously but one out of the 1,000 passengers on board.

The second coach, occupied by Hon. Charles Miller, family and nurse, of Franklin, jumped the track, carrying three other cars with it. Mr. Miller's car broke both couplings and rolled down a twelve-foot bank, all escaping unhurt, except Mrs. Clara Rowe, the nurse, who got an ugly scalp wound and had gash over the right eye. The engine and eleven cars kept the track.

Fatal Collision.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 9.—A collision occurred on the Georgia Pacific railway yesterday between a freight and steam shovel train. Engineer McKeogh, of the freight train, was killed while trying to jump from the train. No one else was hurt. McKeogh's home is in Troy, N. Y., where he has a wife and family.

GRAND LODGE OF ELKS.

An Important Meeting Held in Cleveland, Ohio.

CLEVELAND, O., July 9.—The Elk's reunion here came to a close Monday night and the only business on hand for yesterday morning was the opening meeting of the Grand Lodge. Dr. Simon Quinlin, of Chicago, Exalted Grand Ruler of the organization, rapped the meeting to order shortly before noon, and the committee on credentials retired to prepare a report.

The roll call developed the fact that every lodge but one was represented in the meeting. The absentee was New York No. 1, which some time ago raised objections to the holding of Grand Lodge meetings outside of New York City. The only business done at the opening session was that of organizing and preparing for the knotty problems that will have to be solved before the meeting adjourns.

At 1 o'clock a recess was taken until morning. The grand parade took place in the afternoon and the banquet in the evening. It is estimated that 3,000 Elks are in the city.

A Division in the Order.

NEW YORK, July 9.—A number of members of the Grand Lodge of Elks assembled in this city yesterday, and after passing resolutions repudiating the legality of the meeting now being held in Cleveland, elected W. H. Langdon, of New York, Exalted Grand Ruler.

Well-Come Prize Fight.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 9.—Ike Weir, of Boston, known as the "Belfast Spider," and James Connor, instructor of the Buffalo Athletic club, fought before 1,300 people at the Erie County Athletic club rooms last night for a purse of $1,750, of which $250 went to the loser. Two-ounce gloves were used. Weir won in the third round, knocking Connor completely out. Weir was secured by Tommy Warren and Ed. Smith, the Denver heavy-weight, and Connor was looked after by Mike Quinn, of New York, and George Brintell, of Buffalo. The referee was W. J. Sullivan.

Attempted Highway Robbery.

WILMINGTON, O., July 9.—While Carry Shepp, berry dealer, was passing through a covered bridge near Reesville, he had a thrilling encounter with two highwaymen. Shepp fired at the robber who held the horse's bridle, and he exclaimed: "Jim, I'm shot." They then fired at Shepp, whose horse broke into a run, and Shepp escaped. No further clew to the highwaymen has been secured.

A Train Load of Idiots.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., July 9.—A special train arrived here at noon yesterday bearing 350 children from the feeble-minded asylum at Richmond to the new state institute in this city, which has just been completed. The train consisted of eight coaches, and was in charge of Superintendent Blake and fifty assistants. The old building at Richmond will be used for the insane.

Quayism.

The news comes from Pennsylvania that Quay and his gang of unscrupulous politicians are becoming very uneasy at the revolt of the respectable Republicans of the State against the nomination of Delamater for Governor. Delamater is no better than Quay, if reports are true. He has figured in Republican politics ten or fifteen years, and a member of his own party a few years since brought criminal charges against him. He has been considered all along as a tool of that gigantic octopus, the Standard Oil Company, and was instrumental a year or so ago, when a member of the Legislature, in securing legislation highly favorable to said company—legislation that enables the octopus to continue to crush out all competition. Respectable Republicans are indignant that such a man should be put up for Governor by Quay and his ringsters, and as Pattison, the Democratic nominee, stands high with the people the g. o. p. may be downed at the coming election. Pattison overcame the big Republican majority in the Keystone State a few years ago, and he will probably do it again. His election by an overwhelming majority would be a fitting rebuke to Quayism, and a telling argument for honest politics and honest government.

The last issue of The Nation, speaking of the situation, says: "The Republican trouble over Quay grows more interesting as time goes on. The interest reached its highest point at the Republican convention in Pennsylvania. That Quay on two occasions stole a very large amount of money from the State Treasury not only is true, but has not been denied by him or anybody on his behalf. There are witnesses to the fact of the highest respectability, whose silence during the past three months is almost as good testimony as their oral evidence in court would be. Nevertheless, the convention has met and nominated Quay's man for the Governorship—and he, too, has a little stock of imperfections on his head—and the Committee on Resolutions then proceeded to deal with Quay's personal troubles. In the first draught of the platform which was given to the Associated Press as certain to be adopted, they said:

"For the Chairman of our National Committee, Mr. Quay, we feel a lasting sense of gratitude for his matchless services in the last Presidential campaign, and commend his bearing under the slanders which his successful leadership of our party has purchased for him. As a citizen, a member of the General Assembly, as Secretary of the Commonwealth under two successive administrations, as a State Treasurer by the overwhelming suffrages of his fellow citizens, and a Senator of the United States, he has won and retains our respect and confidence."

His "bearing under the slanders" was simply standing silent under a charge of personal dishonesty supported by reputable and well-known witnesses. Fancy a great political party "commending" a leader for his departure from the customs of honorable men in every civilized community. This, was indeed, subsequently considered a little too strong, so the Quay plank was shifted from the beginning to the end of the platform, and all reference to "slanders" was omitted. But "confidence" was still expressed in a man who once while in charge of the Treasury, and once while having access to it in another office, abstracted from it over a quarter of a million of dollars on each occasion and used it in gambling. The facts have long been known among the leading business men of Philadelphia, and were produced in 1885 by the leading Republican journal of the State—the Press—as a reason why Quay could not be nominated for the State Treasurer-ship."

The election the first Monday in August will be the most important held in this county for years. Democrats should get out their full vote.

The Democratic primaries in Bath and Rowan counties Saturday insure the nomination of Hon. J. J. Nesbitt, of Owingsville, for Delegate to the Constitutional convention. It is thought the Farmers' Alliance will put a candidate in the field in opposition to him, but the matter has not yet been settled.

True, W. W. Longmooer is an ex-Confederate and he was nominated by the Democrats for Appellate Clerk. And it is conceded on all hands that he is splendidly qualified for the position. Republicans who prate so much about his connection with the "lost cause," overlook the fact that their party has been only too anxious to pick up ex-Confederates who have forsaken the Democratic party. Look at Mahone in Virginia and Chalmers in Mississippi. An ex-Confederate seems to be considered a splendid fellow by the most bitter Republicans as soon as he gets over into the ranks of the g. o. p. Major Matt Adams and his Union Democratic friends certainly have more sense than to listen to the clap-trap ranting of the Republican candidate for Appellate Clerk.

THE FORCE ELECTION BILL.

The "Crowning Outrage of Republicanism"—Denunciations of the Measure.

Pittsburg Post: "It is the most infamously unfair, as it is one of the most dangerous, bills that ever passed Congress. It is designed to arouse sectional hatred, and, the chances are, will result in bloody race conflicts at the South. It revives for the whole country the monstrous Returning Board practices and villainies by which the Presidency was stolen in 1876. There is in the bill the dread possibilities of civil war, for it is not in American nature to submit to despotism and wrong, with the right of appeal to the ballot box subverted."

Albany Argus: The very foundations of liberty would be subverted by such a law. It aims at the complete annihilation of constitutional rights of every State, for it takes the control of elections out of the hands of the State authorities. Under its provisions the States would become mere provinces, governed from Washington, and centralization would be established in its most offensive form. It is to be hoped that this crowning outrage of desperate political adventurers will not be consummated."

Philadelphia Record: "The vast business interests that link North and South together are more potent than even the exigencies of party; and it is likely that in one way or another the authors of the infamous Force bill will be brought to confusion and contempt. The people of this country are not willing to establish race hatred as a permanent factor in National politics in order that a set of huckstering, mischief-making politicians may ride into permanent power."

Manchester Union: "The Federal election bill, if enacted, will be understood by the entire South as a reflection upon it, whereas there are but few Congressional districts in which unfair elections are ever charged, much less proved. The business men of the North, who have been carefully cultivating the confidence of the South, will not approve a measure which threatens to disturb business relations for years to come."

Philadelphia Record: "When Mr. McKinley openly avowed in the House that armed interference at the polls was the meaning of the bill, he pronounced its death sentence. The people of this country will not tolerate the presence of Federal soldiers at the polling places."

Mrs. Louie Ross, of Indianapolis, is visiting her mother in this place, Mrs. Meisner.

Mrs. George Gray, of Hillsboro, is visiting her mother, Mrs. A. Raymond, near this place.

W. J. Jackson and family spent the day last Saturday with his father, J. A. Jackson, at the Stonewall House.

Blackberries have made their appearance in our market. They are very fine and the crop is abundant.

Last Monday is thought to have been the hottest day of the season, and we are rather inclined to coincide.

Clifton Worthington, of Nepton, has been spending a few days with the family of his father, ex-Judge Worthington.

The mercury last Monday morning ran up to 85° and in the afternoon to 92° in the shade, where not a ray of sun strikes it.

Martin Fay and Billy Multrons left Monday evening with their traction engine and thrasher for Duke Watson's. They opened the ball there Tuesday.

Any one that would like a horse up to the rack for hours these four days without a fly net or a cheap cover, ought to be fined for cruelty to the dumb brutes.

This fast driving through town is a nuisance. So far as killing the cats and dogs it does not matter so much, but there are children in town and frequently on the streets.

Dr. W. H. Lawwill, of near Danville, was stopping at the Stonewall House last Monday night. He is now down to dispose of his last year's crop of tobacco. The weed has gone.

Robert Huffman, who has been running a blacksmith shop here for some time, moved last week to some point in Fleming County. That leaves an opening here for a good smith.

The Fourth passed off quietly. But few in town owing to the heat. There was but one house spread the buntings to the breeze. John W. Story had the stars and stripes floating from his front porch.

We never knew the flies as bad as they were last Monday. They would light on you in swarms. They were hard on horses, especially those that stood at the rack all day with not even a piece of cotton over them.

We differ widely with the Germantown correspondent in regard to the handsomest and most polite BULLETIN agent. Doubtless his friend Tyler is very passable, but C. Burgess Taylor, who is acting as sub agent at the Stonewall House in this place, will take the belt. He is a masher from away back.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George Myall was the scene of a pleasant social event Thursday evening last, the occasion being an entertainment given by their daughter, Miss Mary.

The charming young hostess was assisted by her brother, Mr. Seymour. At 10 o'clock, delicious refreshments were served. Those present were: Misses Nettie Roe and Jessie Yancey, of Maysville; Miss Ella Gordon, of Winchester, Ky.; Misses Fannie Scott, Josie and Lydia Laytham, Annie and Manie Yancey, Lizzie and Addie Gooding, Bessie M. Worthington, Mary Fox, Maggie Dye, Mary M. Ward, Maggie Cogswell, Mrs. E. C. Dimmick, Caldwell, Sadie Clay, Bettie Raymond, Tillie Reese, May Miller, Beale Prather; Messrs. C. D. Wheeler, Garrett D. BANK DEPOSITS.

How Maysville Ranks With Some Other Kentucky Cities on This Question

There is no city in the State whose banking institutions can make a better showing than those of Maysville. Old "Limestone" stands in the front rank of Kentucky cities on this question.

When it comes to individual deposits, few banks in the State, outside of Louisville, can make as fine a showing as Maysville's.

Statements were published last week of the condition of the banks at a number of points in Kentucky and the BULLETIN has gathered from these statements some figures that will prove interesting.

The two banks at Carlisle reported individual deposits amounting to $262,318-87. The statements of only three of the banks at Paris were obtained. These had $303,181.37 deposits—less than the deposits of either one of Maysville's three banks. One bank at Falmouth reported $118,603.97 deposits, and one bank at Frankfort $187,509.90. Frankfort has two or three other banks, whose statements were not published last week.
Two banks at Mt. Sterling reported $338-267.32. Back at Danville one learns the three banks in the county seat of Boyd had $491,283.14. And down at Shelby-ville, the statements of the four banks showed a total of $456,835.27. No statements were obtained giving the condition of the banks at Georgetown, Lexington, Winchester and Richmond.

Coming back home, the Bank of Maysville was the only one in this city to publish a statement last week, but the two others published statements on May 28.
These last statements show a total of $1,038,200.11 individual deposits subject to check in Maysville's three banks.

Summing up we have the following:
Two banks at Mt. Sterling.....$ 388,767.32
Three banks at Danville.....491,283.14
One bank at Falmouth.....118,603.97
Four banks at Shelbyville.....456,835.27
Two banks at Carlisle.....262,318.87
Three banks at Paris.....303,181.37
One bank at Frankfort.....187,509.90
Three banks at Maysville.....1,038,200.11

PRAYER meeting at Central Presbyterian Church this evening at 8 o'clock, conducted by Rev. John Barbour. During the heated term the prayer meeting services will be held in the main auditorium.

CLARENCE WOLFE, the young negro charged with attempting to rape Anna Woolaver last week, was discharged at the examining trial Monday. The evidence was not strong enough to warrant holding him over to the Circuit Court.

DR. R. GOLDSTEIN, the Louisville optician, who is favorably known in this city and State, has his office at Miss Nancy Wilson's, corner Third and Sutton streets. Those needing his services should consult him at their earliest convenience. He will be here one week longer. 9J2w&s

MR. WARREN F. LELAND, the millionaire hotel man of Chicago, accompanied by Mr. W. F. Steele, also of Chicago, and Mr. A. Ballenberg, of Cincinnati, were registered at the Central Monday night and yesterday morning. They went out to Mr. Dan Mitchell's, near Helena, yesterday afternoon with a view of buying some of his fine horses.

CAPTAIN MARTIN, of the old reliable Red Corner Clothing House, received a large and handsome line of hot weather clothing yesterday and from the crowd that filled his house until late last night and the number of red bundles seen on the streets, he must be selling them for much less than they are worth. He also received two cases of beautiful black straw hats.

MAJOR CHENOWETH, Judge Cole, Judge
Whitaker, Ex-Senator Worthington, Senator Poyntz, Commonwealth's Attorney Sallee, Circuit Clerk Parry and Messrs.
W. LaRue Thomas, T. M. Pearce, John L. Whitaker and J. N. Kehoe are among the delegates attending the Superior Court convention at Lexington. The convention met at noon to-day. A bitter fight was expected over the Kenton and Campbell contests.

A BLACKSMITH SAVES THE LIFE OF A LITTLE GIRL.—Minnie Carney was perhaps as near leaving this world as anyone can be to recover. She was sick with cholera morbus, completely exhausted and unconscious. The physicians in consultation decided the case was hopeless and beyond their control. Chas. J. New-comb, a blacksmith, walked four miles through the darkness and storm, to get a remedy he had himself used, and which he firmly believed would cure her. That medicine was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. He obtained part of a bottle, with which he hastily returned, and gave the little sufferer a half teaspoonful, which relieved her and consciousness gradually returned. The medicine was given in broken doses, and in a short time she was well. He is positive that it saved her life, and has others in that vicinity. For sale by Power &

S. A. WALTON DEAD.

The Attack of Fever Proves Fatal, and Takes Him From the Busy Scenes of Life.

A telegram was received here yesterday afternoon bringing the sad news of Sam Walton's death, at Asheville, N. C.
A week ago last Monday the BULLETIN mentioned his critical illness. He was suffering from an attack of typhoid fever.
His brother Judge Matt Walton, of Lexington, was summoned to his bedside and Dr. Joe Browning, of Germantown, was sent to Asheville to attend the sick man constantly and see that every care was taken of him.

There was a change for the better about a week ago, and as nothing more was heard from Asheville for several days his relatives here thought he must be improving steadily. But as often happens in a case of typhoid fever, there was a sudden relapse, which proved fatal yesterday morning.

Deceased was a native of this county and was about thirty-four years old. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Walton, and was born, and grew to manhood, at the present home of his parents near Minerva.

In June, 1877, he graduated from Bethany College, in West Virginia, and shortly afterwards went to Lancaster, Ky., where he practiced law several years with his brother-in-law, Mr. Ben Burdette. When Hon. Milton J. Durham took charge of the Controller's office under President Cleveland, deceased was appointed a Chief of Division in that department, a position which he filled with credit to himself and honor to the administration.
He did not wait to be turned out of office when President Harrison was inaugurated, but sent in his resignation.
He formed a partnership shortly afterwards with an attorney at Washington City, and resumed the practice of his profession.

A few weeks ago he was sent down into North Carolina to attend to a big transaction in real estate. He had closed the deal and had written to his parents to expect him soon on a visit, but he was stricken down with his fatal illness before he got ready for the trip to the home of his boyhood days.

Deceased was a lawyer of bright promise, a clever, noble-hearted fellow, of handsome bearing, and had a wide circle of friends who will be grieved at the sad news of his death. He left a number of relatives in this city, among them Messrs. D. C. Frazee, Jos. T. Frazee and Dr. John M. Frazee, who are his uncles.
The remains were brought here this morning at 10:30 o'clock, and taken to Germantown for interment.

MINER'S MAXIMS.

The man who buys a cheap shoe
Puts his foot in it.

[By cheap we mean shoddy and confidence shoes.]

Wonder where and how the phrase originated, "put his foot in it," to indicate a great mistake or big blunder? But however it took its rise there it is, fixed in the language and one of the commonest forms of speech in use, to express a big blunder or a huge mistake.

That's why we use it in connection with cheap shoes.

For can there be any worse mistake in trade than to reckon the value of a thing just by the price asked? Did you ever know of a "cheap man" that was good for anything? or a cheap horse, either? Why, it's a fact that to say of a man that he's "cheap" or of an ornament that it "looks cheap" implies contempt.

And yet some people go through life with this shibboleth
"cheap" as the test for everything. It's a big mistake.
It won't do in anything, and especially it won't do in shoes.

Now don't fall into the error of thinking that the opposite term to cheap is dear. In colloquial use, good is the opposite of cheap. "Do you want a cheap man?" says Mr. A. "No, sir," says B.; "I want a good man."
Good is the opposite of cheap;
that's what makes us a little proud of the line—

State of the Weather.

From all indications it is Extremely Hot.

OVER ONE HUNDRED DEGREES.

A Number of Places Report That High a Temperature — Indications That the Present Heated Spell is of Only Short Duration.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The maximum local temperature recorded at the signal office yesterday was 97.8 degrees. This was reached at 3 o'clock. The record at 8 o'clock last night was 89.2 degrees. The street readings ranged from 100 to 104 degrees during the hottest part of the day. There was a great deal of suffering but no casualties are reported.

The following maximum temperature were reported yesterday: Washington City 98 degrees, Albany 98, New York and Philadelphia 96, Kansas City 100, Boston 92, Chicago 88, Tennessee 90 to 96.

The temperature has fallen from 12 to 14 degrees in Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas and Iowa. The cool wave will extend over the lake regions, Tennessee and the Ohio valley on Wednesday, and the Atlantic coast north of New York on Thursday.

Continued warm weather will prevail on the Atlantic coast during Wednesday, with cooler weather during the night and lower temperature on Thursday. Out of 146 stations, 110 report a maximum of 80 degrees or over, sixty-five of which report a maximum of 90 or over.

The mercury at Albany, N. Y., was 97, at Amsterdam 94, at Buffalo 95, at Rochester 95, at Utica 92.

The heat throughout the White mountain region was unusually severe. The mercury reached 85 degrees at Bethlehem. A heavy rain storm followed in the evening.

At Bridgeport, Conn., the mercury reached 98 degrees. It was the hottest day of the season.

At Pikesville, N. Y., the thermometer registered 100 degrees in the shade. At Newark, N. J., the mercury reached 105. One death from sunstroke occurred.

At Wilmington, Del., the maximum temperature was 100 in the shade.

At Philadelphia there was a number of sunstrokes. The thermometer ranged from 99 to 104 in various parts of the city.

At Reading, Pa., at 3 o'clock the temperature reached 100 in the shade.

At Peoria, Ill., the highest temperature was 100.

At Milwaukee, Wis., 86 was the highest temperature reached.

At Duluth, Minn., the highest temperature was 70.

At Minneapolis, Minn., the temperature was 80.

At Columbus, O., the highest temperature was 100 at 6 o'clock in the evening.

At Zanesville, O., the highest temperature was 96 at 3 p. m.

At Dayton, O., the thermometer, at 2:30 in the afternoon, registered 104 in the shade, the highest of the season. No casualties reported.

In New York. NEW YORK, July 9.—The old idea that July 8 is the hottest day in the year would seem to be justified by the weather yesterday. The mercury reached 100 degrees at 3:30 p. m., and the day was the hottest since July 8, 1876, when 98 degrees was registered. There were many cases of prostration by the heat.

In Boston. BOSTON, July 9.—Yesterday was the hottest of the season, the thermometer at the signal office registering 91.2 at 2:30 p. m. A good southwest breeze tempered the fierce heat, and no fatalities were reported. The highest last year was also 91 degrees.

In Cleveland. CLEVELAND, O., July 9.—At 2 p. m. the temperature was 96.3, the hottest of the year. The breeze, however, prevented the extreme heat from being felt as much as on a still day. There were not many cases of sunstroke reported.

In Pittsburgh. PITTSBURGH, July 9.—The highest temperature recorded yesterday at the signal office in this city was 94.2 at 1:30 p. m. This is the highest temperature recorded since July 10, 1887, when the mercury recorded 102.7.

In Baltimore. BALTIMORE, July 9.—One death from the excessive heat was reported yesterday. At 3:30 in the afternoon the thermometer at the signal office showed 98.1-2 degrees, the highest of the year.

In Chicago. CHICAGO, July 9.—The temperature yesterday ranged from 80 at 8 a. m. up to 88 at 1 p. m., and down to about 80 in the evening. A cool northwest breeze, however, tempered the heat.

SHOT HIS DAUGHTER'S LOVER; And Will Serve Five Years in the Penitentiary for the Crime.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., July 6.—James Hinds, a well-to-do citizen of Madison, was received at the prison yesterday to serve five years for shooting Charles Antle. Antle courted Hinds' pretty daughter, to which the father objected and threatened Antle's life.

One day Antle passed Hinds as the latter was sitting in a chair in front of a business house. Hinds spoke to him in a threatening manner, and finally, drawing a pistol, remarked that he might as well kill him, and then fired, wounding Antle. Miss Hinds is still devoted to him, and her father has the galling consciousness that his crime was utterly useless. Hinds was sentenced July 4, when everybody else was celebrating.

State Convention Fixed. ST. LOUIS, July 9.—At a meeting of the Republican state committee held in this city yesterday, it was decided to hold the state convention at Jefferson City. Aug. 25 is fixed as the date.

LONDON BOBBIES.

Their Strike a Failure — Bradford Indorsed by the Press.

LONDON, July 9.—The city had a bad night Monday night. Three hundred of the police went on a strike against the arbitrary methods of Sir Edward Bradford, the new chief, who made his reputation handling the police of India, and who seems to think that methods which succeeded in Calcutta will succeed in London.

The crowds in Bow street had to be charged by the horse guards, and many were hurt. Some horsemen were unhorsed. The Prince and Princess of Wales, at Covent Garden theater to hear "Les Huguenots," had to leave by the back way. Merchants and bank clerks were on guard all night at their places of business.

Quietness prevailed throughout the entire metropolitan police force Tuesday morning. None of the men were on a strike. Two members of the force who were taken into custody for assaulting superior officers Tuesday, have each been sentenced to fourteen days' imprisonment.

The men are weakening. They have no organization, and it is not likely that they will attempt to enforce their demands by a general strike. It is possible, however, that further isolated disturbances may occur. The constables who were dismissed from the force for their connection with the present troubles, are petitioning the authorities for reinstatement.

London Papers Indorse Bradford.

LONDON, July 9.—The morning newspapers are unanimous in condemnation of the police strike, which sentiment is shared by the public generally. Public opinion has condemned Sir Edward Bradford's arbitrary policy since his appointment as chief commissioner of police, but is overwhelmingly favorable to him in its estimate of his conduct Monday.

On all sides his course was applauded, and nobody questions its necessity. The police were placed at a decided disadvantage as regards justification in attempting to strike upon the short notice they gave of their intention, since every member of the force is bound by an agreement to give two months' notice of his purpose of abandoning the service.

The agitators of the strike were mainly novices, who had everything to gain and little to lose. The veterans of the force hesitated to sacrifice the benefits and advantages of their past long service by following the lead of their hot-headed juniors, and their hesitancy in the future will certainly be greater.

It is unquestionably the coolness and better judgment of the older men in the service that the failure of the strike is due. These men never had committed themselves to a strike, and their reluctance to take the step influenced many of their colleagues, who otherwise would have responded to the call for a general outbreak.

A Cable Finished.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 9.—Advices from the cable ship Westmeath, which is now lying off Bermuda, say that great difficulty was found in laying the shore end of the Halifax-Bermuda cable. The work has been successfully accomplished, however, and in a few hours Bermuda will have electrical communication with the civilized world.

An Indignant Bookkeeper.

CHICAGO, July 9.—The story printed in the morning papers that Adolph Hoske, bookkeeper for Young Brothers, furniture manufacturers, was missing, together with $1,200 of the firm's money, is untrue. Mr. Hoske was absent his business as usual to-day and much surprised and indignant that such a report could have originated.

Depew's Latest.

NEW YORK, July 9.—A special from Chicago to The Herald says it is stated on what is believed to be good authority that President Chauncey M. Depew, of the New York Central, will also be president of the reorganized Union Stock Yards company, the Vanderbilts still having a large interest in the yards.

Killed By an Owl Train.

NEW LONDON, Conn., July 9.—John Kelly, aged 59, a tin roofer of Brooklyn, was struck and killed by the Shore Line Owl train this morning. He arrived here by the boat an hour before and started to look up an officer of the ship, in which he served during the war, to assist him in obtaining a pension.

Stonemasons' Strike.

LONDON, O., July 9.—Representatives from Dayton and Springfield stonemasons' unions came here and effected an organization among the stonemasons working on the new court house here, and the result is a strike. They demand forty cents per hour, instead of thirty cents, now paid. Contractors refuse the advance, and the work has stopped.

Rivals Suspected.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 9.—In Harrison county, Ind., the White Caps took Augustus Collin from the presence of a young lady, upon whom he was calling, into a woods near by, gave him a severe whipping, and warned him to cease his attentions. Unsuccessful arrivals are suspected of being in the party.

Requisition Papers Granted.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 9.—Governor Hill has granted requisition papers to Rhode Island authorities for the return to Providence of Nettie Clarke, who forged a $6,000 check and fled to New York, where she was apprehended.

Charged With Forgery.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 9.—W. N. Griswold, a well known ticket scalper of this city, was arrested yesterday, charged with forgery. He is accused of altering six International and Great Northern railway tickets.

Chance for Women in China.

Dr. King, an American lady, occupies the position of physician in ordinary to Count Li, one of the most distinguished statesmen in China. She also possesses a valuable practice in Shanghai, where some of her surgical operations have excited the admiration of her medical brethren. It appears that there is a wide field of employment open to women doctors in the Chinese empire.—Exchange.
